Every student who completes the FAFSA receives a Cost of Attendance (COA). Your COA is not a bill; it is an estimated cost for nine months of attendance of graduate courses. Each total includes an enrollment of six credit hours with the exception of those enrolled in the Institute of Design and the College of Architecture.

Students seeking to increase their total COA AND request more loan funding can complete a Graduate Cost of Attendance Adjustment Worksheet. Students who only need more loan funding can submit a PLUS Loan Request Form.

Note: The only additional governmental loan funding offered to students is a credit–based Graduate PLUS Loan.
