I. Purpose

In the conduct of its educational and research programs, IIT is a party to many kinds of contracts. This policy defines the authority of specified IIT officials to enter into transactions that commit university resources or otherwise legally obligates the university.

An individual does not have authority to initiate or to enter into a contract or transaction, and should not represent that he or she has authority, unless such authority is specifically provided for in this or other policy documents or corporate resolutions. If authority is not clear, the General Counsel's Office should be consulted. IIT shall have no obligation to honor contracts or transactions entered into that are not in compliance with this policy.

II. Institutional Authority

IIT's corporate governance documents give the president and vice presidents authority to contract. To facilitate the process for negotiation and approval of contracts, the president, who may execute any contract, has delegated certain contractual authority and responsibility to specific staff positions that, within the limitations specified below, are empowered to enter into contracts on behalf of IIT. Said authority and responsibility is in addition to any other such authority and responsibility that may be specifically authorized by resolution of the Board of Trustees or its Executive Committee.

Certain types of transactions, such as those involving bank accounts, bequests, real estate, capital projects and other substantial transactions, may require approval by the Board of Trustees. The individual handling the transaction should ensure that the transaction has the necessary approval. If it is unclear whether such approval is required, the General Counsel's Office should be consulted.

As discussed more fully in Section V below, although certain types of transactions may require review and approval regardless of size, in general, all contracts for goods and/or services in excess of $100,000 must be submitted to the General Counsel's Office for review. If there are incremental orders with a single vendor that will exceed $100,000 in total over any 12-month period, then there must be a contract with the vendor and it must be reviewed by the General Counsel's Office. Regardless of the dollar amount, the General Counsel's Office will, upon request, review any contract.

III. Contract Requirements

The individual approving any transaction forming a commitment between IIT and a third party is responsible and accountable for assuring that:

1. He or she has the authority to approve the transaction or execute a contract.
2. Where required, all appropriate institutional reviews and approvals have been obtained in advance of any commitment being made.
3. The transaction complies with all applicable federal, state and local laws as well as conforms to all applicable IIT policies, including, without limitation, those relating to equal employment opportunity, minority and women-owned business contracting, privacy and health and safety.
4. If the transaction involves acquisition or disposal of hazardous substances, it has been approved by IIT's Director of Environmental Health and Safety.
5. Where appropriate, an assessment has been made of the likely impact of the transaction on other elements of IIT and the broader community and appropriate consultation has taken place with any constituencies that might be impacted.
6. Funds for the transaction have been allocated or are otherwise available within regularly approved budgets, special appropriations or restricted or designated accounts.
7. No real or apparent conflict of interest exists on the part of the approving individual or any other individual organization involved in the transaction, and where a real or apparent conflict of interest does exist, it is resolved, prior to entering into the transaction.

V. General Counsel’s Office

The General Counsel is responsible for rendering legal advice to all authorized representatives of IIT. The General Counsel's Office should be consulted in a timely fashion where appropriate to assure that contracts and other agreements fully protect the rights and other interests of IIT, conform to university policy, and are consistent with all applicable laws. The General Counsel's Office is available to assist with the legal aspects of any contract provision. Contracting officers are required to consult with the General Counsel's Office prior to execution of (i) any contract with a value that equals or exceeds $100,000, or (ii) when, in the judgment of the contracting officer, the agreement includes provisions which pose a substantial risk to IIT or includes new, non-standardized provisions with which the officer is not familiar.

VI. Indemnification

IIT will defend any IIT employee against legal claims based upon an act, omission or transaction that arises within the scope of IIT employment and in the performance of authorized duties. This policy should be considered in relation to these procedures as the protections afforded by the indemnification policy do not extend to personal, unofficial or unauthorized acts, omissions and transactions.
